CANCERS CAN BE CURED
DR. L. CHASE,
(LATE OF PORTLAND).
THE CELEBRATED
INDIAN CANCER & TUMOR DOCTOR,
HAVING purchased the residence of D. A. Wood, 54 Hammond Street, Bangor, Maine, would be happy to be consulted by all who are afflicted with Cancers, Cancer Humors, Tumors, Scrofula, Leprosy, Salt Rheum, Fits, Neuralgia, Bronchial Affections, Catarrh, Rheumatism, Sick Headache, Liver Diseases, Female Weaknesses, Piles, Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, Diseases of the Kidneys,
Stiff Joints, Gravel, Diabetes, &c., &c.
DR. CHASE has practiced in his profession for sixteen years, and in that time has spent two years in Florida and Cuba, for the purpose of gaining a correct knowledge of the most efficient remedies used by the various tribes of Indians of that country, and by great expense has gained many valuable secrets which have heretofore been unknown to the world.
In Cancer he claims superiority over all other Physicians of the age, for he never fails to perform a cure when treatment is properly used.
His mode of curing Cancers is by the application of a plaster, which is strictly vegetable, and will have no effect upon the healthy flesh; and in no case use a knife, as does Dr. Greene, of Boston.
He also boldly asserts that he can tell every individual their disease and location of their pains, and describe their feelings almost every case, more minutely than they can possibly themselves.
Dr. Chase is not a Clairvoyant, but conducts his examinations on a strictly scientific principle, and will challenge any professed medium for a test examination.
Office hours from 9 A.M. to 8 P.M. Examinations free. Office residence No. 54 Hammond Street.

THE MOST POPULAR
COOKING STOVE
IN NEW ENGLAND.
The Model Cook for Wood or Coal.
THIS STOVE has now been before the public for five years, and thoroughly tested in all respects, and to say that no stove yet made has given equal satisfaction is speaking within the bounds of truth, while it has disappointed no other Stove.
THAT THE MODEL COOK will do more work with a given amount of fuel than any other Stove made, is a fixed fact.
THE MODEL COOK will do more work for the reason that it has full one-third more oven room than any other stove, is more economical for the reason that no fire is made between the ovens. No heat is lost.
A more peculiar feature of the Model Cook is the addition of a Ventilating Roasting Oven so arranged that it can be used separately for roasting, or in connection with the large oven for baking. By this process roasting and baking are entirely separate.
The permanent extension gives an additional boiler hole and other room on the top of the stove, while at the same time the stove occupies no more room on the floor than ordinary stoves.
In fact THE MODEL COOKS are acknowledged by all who have used them to be
THE MOST PERFECT,
THE MOST ECONOMICAL,
THE MOST CONVENIENT,
THE MOST BEAUTIFUL,
AND THE
Most Durable Stove in the World!
THE MODEL COOKS are manufactured at the rate of 500 per year, and the demand for them is constantly increasing.
EVERY MODEL COOK sold, is warranted to give entire satisfaction in all respects, or the stove will be taken back and the full price refunded.
This stove is more extensively in use in New England for coal than any other, and gives the best satisfaction. We are the exclusive agents for this Stove in Bangor, and will be pleased to show to any who will call.

FELLOWS' ORIGINAL
WORM LOZENGES.
WE can with confidence point to FELLOWS' WORM LOZENGES as the most perfect remedy for those troublesome pests,
INTESTINAL WORMS.
After years of careful experiment, success has crowned our efforts, and we now offer to the world a confection without a single fault, be it safe, convenient, effectual and pleasant. No injurious result can occur, let them be used in whatever quantity. Not a particle of calomel enters the composition. Not a particle of salt need enter the stomach. They may be used without further preparation, and at any time. Children will eagerly devour all you give them, and ask for more. They carry Salt-Spoonfuls of Worms from their dwelling-place, and they will always strengthen the weak and emaciated, even when he is not afflicted with worms.
Various medicines have, from time to time, been recommended, such as calomel, oil of wormwood, santonine, &c., possessing dangerous, nay, sometimes fatal properties. After much research, study and experiments, embracing several years, the proprietors of Fellows' Worm Lozenges have succeeded in producing this remedy, free from all objectionable, and possessed of the most effectual effects. They do not kill the worms, but cause by melting their dwelling-place disagreeable to them, to induce to secure endangerment to the existence of these creatures, the majority of Dr. L. A. Hayes, State Assayer, in Boston.
Fellows' Worm Lozenges are prepared by Messrs. FELLOWS & CO., and find that they are free from mercury and other metallic or mineral matter. These Lozenges are skillful compounded, efficient in their tasks, and most pleasant to take. Their motion. Respectfully, L. A. HAYES, M.D.
"Assayer to the State of Mass."
Price 25 cents per Box; Five for $1.
Sent by mail on receipt of price, in a plain box, free from observation, upon receipt of Ten Postage Stamps, for the Dollar, sent to the Proprietors, to whom all orders should be addressed.

American & Foreign Patents.
R. E. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.
No. 78 State Street, (opposite Kilby street,) Boston.
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms, with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.
No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.
During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, EITHER APPEALS; every one of which was decided in his favor by the Commissioner of Patents.
TESTIMONIALS.
I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. GEO. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they can not employ a man more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
"Mr. R. E. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all, but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGMARE."

TO MILL OWNERS.
Hoisting & Canting Machine,
FOR HOISTING LUMBER
Upon Gang Edger Tables.
BY this machine lumber is hoisted upon Edger Tables, to be edged, after passing through the Gang Sawers, by water or steam power, thereby saving all the hard lifting labor of edgers, as is well known so arduous in saw mills.
Two men will edge from two to three thousand feet more lumber in a day with, than without, and do it much easier.
Whether sawing large or small lumber, it hoists the largest as well as the small cut sticks quicker than can be done by hand, and with more effort than to handle one inch board. In fact this machine hoists the heaviest timber with ease and rapidity, that is surprising and gratifying to see.
A greater labor-saving machine has not been invented in a century, the value of which can never be computed in dollars and cents.
Every one who pays his money for this machine will receive back again its value cost by its use in one season, and in most cases in one half that time.
They are strong and durable machines, and will stand constant use for years.

THE CENTRAL
Pacific R. R. Co.,
Having Completed, Equipped and put in operation nearly One Hundred Miles of their Road, from Sacramento, California, to within 12 Miles of the summit of the Sierra Nevada Mountains, continue to offer for sale, through us, their
FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS,
Issued in conformity with the Acts of Congress and the laws of the State of California, upon the division of their Road located in the State of California, and extending one hundred and fifty-six miles from Sacramento City to the California State line.
These Bonds have Thirty Years to run from July 1, 1866, and are secured by a
FIRST MORTGAGE.
Constituting an absolute prior lien on the portion of Road above named, with all the Rights, Franchises, Equipments, &c., pertaining thereto.
The amount of these First Mortgage Bonds to be issued per mile is limited by law to the amount of United States Bonds allowed and issued to aid the construction of the Road, and the Mortgage by which they are secured is DECLARED BY ACT OF CONGRESS TO CONSTITUTE A LIEN PRIOR AND SUPERIOR TO THAT OF THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT.
Interest at the rate of Six per cent. per Annum, payable Semi-Annually, on the first days of January and July.
Principal and Interest payable in UNITED STATES GOLD COIN,
in the City of New York.
The price of the Bonds is fixed for the present at 95 per cent., and accrued interest from January 1st in Currency, the Company reserving the right to advance the price whenever it is their interest to do so. The Road forms the Western part of the
MAIN TRUNK
OF THE
Great National Pacific Railroad, authorized, adopted and aided by
The United States Government.
It runs through the heart of the richest and most populous section of the State of California, connecting the Extensive Mining Regions of Nevada, Utah and Idaho
With Sacramento and the Pacific Coast, from whence their supplies must be drawn; and the Earnings of the portion already running are very heavy, and largely in excess of the interest upon the Company's Bonds.
Having been for some time familiar with the operations of the Central Pacific Railroad Company, we are satisfied that they are conducted with rare ability and prudence, and that the economic and economical management of the Company's affairs entitles them to the confidence of Capitalists and of the public. We have carefully investigated the progress, resources, and prospects of the Road and have the fullest confidence in its success, and in the value and stability of the Company's securities. The attention of Trustees of Estates, Institutions, and individuals desiring a long, safe and remunerative investment, is especially invited to these First Mortgage Bonds.
Orders may be forwarded to us direct, or through the principal Banks and Bankers in all parts of the country.
Remittances may be made in drafts on New York, or in Legal Tender Notes, National Bank Notes, or other funds current in this city, and the Bonds will be forwarded to any address by Express, free of charge. Inquiries for further particulars, by mail or otherwise, will receive prompt attention.

The Bangor and Piscataquis Railroad

SPEECH MADE BY GEO W LADD, ESQ., AT THE RAILROAD MEETING, MARCH 28

Mr Chairman The improvements of mankind have wrought strange changes in the commerce of the world —One one now in progress most wonderful of all Rivers and inlets of the sea which the products of the forest and ocean have dotted with villages upon our Atlantic coast, have flourished while the forests have lasted but have since began to fade and pass away The Erie Canal, known as "Clinton s folly" by the old fogy of that time, has made the Hudson and its surroundings a hundred times more valuable than the larger St. Lawrence This with the invention of steamboats by Fulton has made the 'Father of Waters' valuable and the west inhabitable These are the precursors of the revolution in the commerce of this country, consequent upon the introduction of the railroad which cheapens interior transportation and changes the direction of commerce to shipping centres, and these largely made by the wise investment of capital

Towns and cities eligibly located for commercial centres which do not embrace this modern cheapening of transportation will be as eventually ruined as the old commercial cities on the Mediterranean were by the discovery of the mariner s compass The merchants of Genoa and Venice, for years could not appreciate and probably regarded the enterprising mariner as a lunatic Enjoying so long the splendid monopoly and profits of the trade of India, they, like the modern Nabob lay snoozing in their rich palaces while the poor mariner doubled Cape Good Hope to cheapen the transportation from the Indies and to remove the commercial sceptre from the throne forever They henceforth are only known in the history of the world's history as the pawn brokers for of fourteen miles already constructed, and from thence we have a very level country to pass through and the improved grade, with the eligible and capacious water depot at Bangor will more than compensate for this distance

The estimated cost of 35 miles at $25,000 per mile, is $875,000
Interest on this investment is $52,500
Cost of running, repairs and all incidental expenses, 222,500
Allowance for extra expenses consequent upon handling so much heavy freight, 25,000
We have a yearly cost of $300 000

Now let us look to the probable earnings when well and prosperous, and it may take some time for a full development, which we can well afford to wait for

I estimate a passenger travel equal to fifty each way, making one hundred at four cents per mile $1 40 each, 313 days, $43,820
200 000 tons of freight at 5 cents ton a mile, $1 75 per ton, 350 000
In all, an income of $393,820

Or nearly one hundred thousand dollars net income or an interest on a road that will cost some two and half millions of dollars

And here — might stop, but for the skeptic, who will criticise my estimates Let me then particularize the freight estimate

Slate and Iron,	100,000 tons
Merchandize to and from Piscataquis,	75,000 "
Supplies for lumbering,	5,000 "
Products of the forests,	20 000 "
	200,000 tons

You will all admit I have made the latter too small—If so it will serve to make up for any deficiency by over estimate of the others

Thus we have, providing the present prices are maintained, estimates that will save to our industry for the two counties $5 00 per ton on 200,000 tons of freight,—$1,000,000

To satisfy you that my estimate of Slate and Iron is not too high, I will state that the deposit of Iron at Brownville is regarded as abundant, and by some as inexhaustible The companies that have worked the mine heretofore have all failed in consequence of the expensive transportation to tide water I estimate a production hereafter equal to

Ten State Quarries at nine thousand tons each, 90,000 "
In all, 100,000 tons

But four are now opened, but it is conceded that the opening of ten or even twenty is only delayed by the cost of transportation to tide water, it now costing seven dollars per ton In making up my estimate of 75,000 tons of merchandise, I estimate that the road will supply eventually a population of 30,000 with all the goods they consume they do not produce and remove all that is manufactured or produced, more than they consume—wire, potatoes, stock, hay, oats, barley, beans, apples &c;—supplies for all lumber cut on the West Branch, Lower Lakes Piscataquis and Kennebec—5,000 tons.

I estimate the products of the forests—long lumber manufactured on Pleasant and Piscataquis Rivers, ship timber, hard wood, knees, shingles, clapboards, wood, bark, fish barrels, hoop poles, mars—at 20,000 tons

Now let us refer to the experience of other roads running through a section of country regarded as exhausted for lumber The hard wood has all been brought into use, unrolled with the improved knife, and made into fruit boxes for the Mediterranean trade over The hemlock when on our Waterville road became more valuable than the pine and spruce on our upper waters, and all will soon be marketed, leaving for this road market for every hard wood tree that is a within twenty five miles from its road bed Look at the immense exportation of potatoes over the Kennebec roads There were shipped from the town of Buckfield last fall 110 tons of dried apples! There passed over the Farmington road 18,000 barrels of apples one fall. Piscataquis produces an equal quantity, and is capable of doubling it.

We exported from Bangor last year 377,000 bushels of potatoes, valued at $264,000. We can double it on this road [illegible]

[illegible] Bangor and Piscataquis [illegible] thousand tons each, 100,000 tons

But we must overlook their weakness, and like a [illegible] lary, have all the [illegible] Gain in the argument and wisely locate it for the advantage of all

Another topic of interest for us is, how do railroads pay? Among the best paying roads in Massachusetts are those connecting with steamers that run on Long Island Sound There are three magnificent lines of steamers connecting with rail Boston and New York, and another is about being opened, all in competition with rails We propose to increase the passenger travel this way by cheapening the travel by ticketing passengers from Piscataquis to Boston from Bangor by steamer at a lower fare by fifty per cent than by all rail via Newport—and our own popular steamboat line, the proprietors of which reside with us, are ready and anxious to join us, and to make a large subscription to the stock

By a direct road to Milo, distant thirty-three miles, we save transporting the heavy freight forty eight miles via Dover We have no fear of Belfast with this road open Our harbor is closed in the winter two months longer than hers to be sure But our other project, only second in importance, is the construction of a road to Winterport, a harbor that is always open when any one is this side of Cape Cod. While Belfast is closed with ice for eight weeks, steamers can run daily to Winterport.

In conclusion, let me remind you of what the progress of this age is doing for men, and material things that concern us men—if among us there are any who care nothing for this, let them remove to China, where the inhabitants use the plough in use three thousand years ago If not satisfied, tarry awhile in Japan on their return, where they are shaking off the shackles of this stupid past Our country beholds a new race of men produced by the electricity of modern improvements New York has her Vanderbilt, George Law and Dry Goods Stewart Massachusetts, richest of States, with nothing but rep to export, but she had her Lawrences to set her thousands of spindles in operation, and her railroad men to introduce economy of transportation She has had her Josh Sears, too, letting money like our money sharks at twelve per cent—Let me contrast these women of Massachusetts, new dead and gone, as type men of their State and day Abbott Lawrence, the commercial nobleman of Massachusetts, if I may be allowed the term, passes a life of unsurpassed activity, enriching his community and himself, making small towns large cities—no improvement in machinery too insignificant for his attention, and no internal improvement but had his intelligent support This life prepared him for that wise beneficence that scattered his wealth almost broadcast to objects of deserving charity Noble specimen of a noble State! Joshua Sears, long and favorably known as an enterprising merchant of Boston, cultivating habits of acquisitiveness until the chronic miser controls the man,—he dies leaving six million pounds to an infant son, and perhaps is not missed, except in that local charity known as Long Wharf

THE TROUBLE IN MARYLAND The situation in Maryland for which the interposition of Congress is invoked, is in substance this —When the Union men were in power during the rebellion, they neglected to do anything toward bringing colored Unionists to the polls so that when the rebels returned, resumed political control of the State, which they hope to make permanent by an unjust exercise of their power The Republicans now call on the General Government to interfere by establishing impartial suffrage, on the ground of "guaranteeing a republican form of government" to Maryland But the difficulty is, allowing that Constitutional clause to be applicable to the case so discriminate between Maryland and other loyal States—say Connecticut, for instance, where negroes are not allowed to vote—so that the precedent of interference may not come binding to an unwarrantable and inadmissable extent

While every desire then, to overlook the error of the Maryland Unionists in the past, and to help them in their present predicament, we doubt if their petition should be complied with The time may come, and we think it will, when the conditions of impartial suffrage imposed upon the rebel States may be wrought into the Constitution and made of national application forever But even if this is not done, the progress of education and of liberal principles in every State may secure the same result

A VETERAN PUBLISHER Hon John Prentiss, for many years editor and publisher of the Keene (N. H.) Sentinel, began his ninetieth year on Thursday last He commenced The Sentinel in 1799, when he was just 21 years of age, his cash capital consisting of a five dollar bill He gave large notes for his stock in trade which bore this singular endorsement, "This note not to be sued unless there is evident danger of losing it" From 1799 to 1851 he dedicated the contents of his weekly sheet, and forty eight years except during a temporary absence, made up the forms of his paper

The President has approved the bill requiring every national banking association, State bank or banker or association, to pay a tax of ten per centum on the amount of notes of any town, city or municipal corporation, paid out by them after the 1st day of May, 1867, to be collected in the mode and manner in which the tax on the notes of State banks is collected.

"In Connecticut, last week, a colored man begged for some whiskey, saying he could drink half a pint of it. That quantity was furnished him and he drank it at a draught He died in a few hours afterward

SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILL.

A Certain Cure for Diseased Liver and the most Dangerous Maladies which are caused by a morbid condition of that organ

To give the public a clear understanding of the mode in which SCHENCK s Mandrake Pills produce those wonderful effects which are attested by thousands of reliable witnesses, we present a brief

DESCRIPTION OF THE HUMAN LIVER

and its functions, which will make the operation of this popular medicine perceptible to every man's understanding

The liver is supplied with blood vessels nerves and absorbents One of the chief functions is to secrete and prepare the bile It likewise filters the blood and separates bad fluid from all impurities How indispensably necessary to health is the proper performance of this function! If the liver is diseased, it cannot purify the blood, and if that is sent back through the lungs brain and other parts in a morbid condition it must cause jaundice, biliousness, obstruction of the kidneys, gravel, and many other complaints more or less painful and dangerous, but the least of them quite enough to make a man sick and uncomfortable and unfit for the performance of any of the duties of life This unhealthy state of the system very often ends in pulmonary consumption

The circulation of the blood is conducted in this manner—The heart sends the vital current down through the arteries it passes through the liver taking up all impurities in its progress then the stream of blood flows backward through the veins, and passes to the lungs to be purified It is impossible to cure consumption scrofula or scarcely any other kind of ulcers unless the liver is made healthy and free from all impurities It is for that reason that "regular physicians" rarely cure consumption—They usually begin their treatment with the use of some cough medicine the basis of which is morphine or opium in some form which locks up the liver instead of relaxing the secretions, giving a tone to the stomach, and producing a healthy flow of bile Dr Schenck's will strengthen the system, purify the blood, and ripen and heal ulcers on the lungs.

A volume would be required to give a brief account of the remarkable cures performed by Dr Schenck's medicines, viz Pulmonic Syrup Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills—all of which are accompanied by full directions for the use of them

DR SCHENCK will be professionally at his rooms every week 32 Bond street, New York until 3 Hanover street, Boston, from 9 A. M. until 3 P M. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with the Respirometer the charge is five (5) dollars His medicines are for sale by all druggists and dealers Also a full supply at all times at his rooms Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic, each $1.50 per bottle, or $7 50 the half dozen Mandrake Pills 25 cents per box.

An Effectual Worm Medicine

BROWN'S VERMIFUGE COMFITS,

OR WORM LOZENGES Much sickness, undoubtedly, with children and adults, attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. The VERMIFUGE COMFITS, although effectual in destroying worms can do no possible injury to the most delicate child—This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be safe and sure in eradicating worms so hurtful to children

CHILDREN HAVING WORMS require immediate attention as neglect of the trouble often causes protracted sickness

SYMPTOMS OF WORMS IN CHILDREN are often overlooked Worms in the stomach and bowels cause irritation, which can be removed only by the use of a sure remedy The combination of ingredients used in making Brown's Vermifuge Comfits is such as to give the best possible effect with safety.

WASHINGTON, April 1.

The Commissioner of the Freedmen's Bureau is in receipt of a report of the operations of the Bureau in the State of Mississippi during January, by A. C. Gilen, Assistant Commissioner, from which it appears that labor was in good demand and better wages were offered than last year, while it is stated that those who treated the freedmen fairly cannot obtain bonds.

The sub-Commissioner, in charge of the Bureau at Natchez, states that while there is much destitution among the freedmen, the most alarming destitution and suffering are occurring in the white population in the face. Of the two classes the former are better situated, being able to do that kind of work generally in demand, and their wants being few their expenses are small. There were but few complaints being made to the bureau.—The schools are well sustained and the freedmen are doing much to support them.

In conclusion, Genl. Gillen remarks:

There is no opposition from the more intelligent classes to the education of freedmen, but on the contrary many planters have applied for teachers, and are willing to furnish the necessary buildings for schools."

Genl. Gillen is convinced that all prejudice against the education of the blacks will soon disappear.

The demand for labor continues unabated, and thousands of colored people are brought to Mississippi from the older States of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia.

The accounts of destitution and starvation so far as they refer to Mississippi, are much exaggerated. During January no rations were issued to citizens, black or white, except those in hospitals.

The Freedmen's Bureau has received a letter from the Assistant Commissioner for the State of Georgia, relative to affairs in that State. He reports that there are now 90 schools in operation, with 145 teachers and 7,347 pupils.

Some trouble has been experienced in different parts of the State in settling difficulties between the freedmen and their employers growing out of the refusal of the latter to pay the wages promised. Even at this time it is almost impossible to obtain justice for the colored people in the minor courts.—In the higher courts there is evidence of an increased disposition to administer the laws justly.

The President sent no nominations to the Senate to-day.

The House Judiciary Committee will remain in session all the week on impeachment question, and then adjourn until the 1st of May.

A letter from the wife of a distinguished army officer at St. Louis, received here this morning, confirms the report of the capture of Fort, Buford, at the mouth of the Yellow Stone, on the Upper Missouri. Col. Rankin, his wife, child and the whole garrison, were slaughtered, all about 80. Colonel Rankin had representated, fully four months before, his inability to resist people of attacks of so overwhelming force of Indians, if brought against him, and requested to be reinforced or withdrawn into a more defensible position. He sent in letters saying that he anticipated his fate, and made good his promise to his friends "that he would defend his position to the last man."

Private letters state that he repulsed with his small force an attack of from 2000 to 3000 Indians, killing and wounding over 1000 before he was overwhelmed.

It is generally supposed that Col. Rankin shot his wife to prevent her falling into the hands of the Indians. No possible blame can be attached to Col. Rankin's memory for the fall of the fort, as he had many years' experience in the Indian country, and was an officer of great coolness and discretion.

DUNDEE, April 1.

The vote cast to-day was very light, and the Republicans generally successful, and will elect their State ticket and a majority of the delegates to the constitutional convention. This city gives a small Republican majority.

HARRISBURG, April 1.

The bids were opened today for the Tunnel at Mifflin Station. Only Mifflin County bids for at [illegible] and about [illegible] Young and his partner. Twelve bid for Dauphin county. [illegible] the remainder [illegible] bidders.

[illegible] April 1.

The [illegible] are [illegible] today for 30 hours.

[illegible]

SAVANNAH, Ga., April 1.

A mass meeting of citizens was held here today. A large majority of those present were colored men. Addresses were made by ex-Gov. Johnson, Col. Stone, Dr. J. J. Waring Col. H. S. Fitz, J. M. Sims, J. G. Campbell, and a colored preacher and several others.

Resolutions were adopted recognizing Congress as the supreme legislative power—pledging themselves to stand shoulder to shoulder in the reorganization of the State government, and maintain national unity; recognizing the importance of the education of the whole people; declaring their purpose to labor earnestly for the education of every citizen, and requesting the military commanders of the district to order the registration and election at the earliest practicable moment for a convention to organize the State of Georgia in accordance with the Congressional plan.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., April 1.

A Conservative Convention was held here to-day, Judge Grant presiding. Judge Whiteworth, and a Mr. Williams, a colored man, were the principal speakers. The former enforced the views he recently put forth in a letter, respecting the policy of accepting the situation, fully recognizing the negro as a citizen and voter, and inviting him to participate in political meetings.

Mr. Williams took the ground that the owners of the soil and the laborers were identified in interest, and should co-operate for the good of each other and the country. He believed the Southern man was the negro's best friend. [Mr. Williams is from Pennsylvania, and has served in the Union army.]

The Convention adopted a resolution requesting the colored voters to hold a meeting to appoint delegates to the State Convention, which assembles here on the 16th inst., to nominate a candidate for Governor.

ASSOCIATED PRESS OFFICE,
No. 145 Broadway, N. Y.,
April 1, 1867.

Arrangements have now been completed distribution throughout the United States of the commercial news from all parts of the world, collected at New York by the Associated Press of this city. The Western Union Telegraph Company have entire charge of machinery for distributing, and its agents will receive applications from all persons who may desire to obtain this news for business purposes.

The sales for newspaper publication will continue as heretofore, in charge of the Associated Press; but the new branch of business now proposed will be under the direction of Gen. Marshall Lefferts, 145 Broadway, N. Y., who has been placed by the Telegraph Company at the head of the new bureau, to whom all communications of importance should be addressed. Agents will be appointed for all the principal cities and towns of the Union, as soon as practicable, and those wishing to subscribe can apply to the managers of the telegraph offices for information.

The commercial public will now be furnished with reliable intelligence at a very moderate price, and with the absolute certainty of being protected alike against monopolists and speculators.

Agents of the Associated Press at all points will do what they can to facilitate the work of distribution, both for the sake of the public convenience and the interests of their principals.

NEW YORK, April 1.

The Post says Wall street is dull, but the general tone of feeling is better.

The loan market is fairly active, with an adequate supply at 7 per cent

Commercial paper 7 a 8 per cent.

Stocks steady with very little animation.

Governments lower.

Railroads dull and inactive.

Exchange quiet.

The demand for money is very active.—The market is stringent at 7 per cent. for call loans and miscellaneous collaterals, and on government securities 6 per cent. Little doing on discounts, only prime paper current at 7 a 8 per cent.

Gold closed firmly a 134½, owing to the decline on United States bonds in London.

Sterling exchange quiet and the demand moderate, but bankers' bills firmer; prime bills 108¾ a 109.

Government securities quiet and generally a fraction lower.

Stocks dull and lower at the last open board, with a further decline after the last session, and the closing quotations are the lowest of the day—showing an average decline of 1 per cent.

Mining shares generally quiet.

NEW YORK, April 1.

The Pacific mail steamship Costa Rica sailed today for China, with a full and valuable cargo. This vessel is sent out for the purpose of making the connection between Shanghae and Yokohama.

The Roanoke New York sailed from this port this afternoon for Aspinwall, with a large number of passengers.

The arrivals from southern ports have been unusually numerous. Every vessel reports severe weather on the coast, and many of them have suffered considerably therefrom.

There were 425 deaths in this city last week.

On Sunday evening, one of the horse cars running between Jersey City and Hoboken, was broken to pieces at the Grove street crossing, by an Erie Railroad locomotive. The accident was caused by the gate-keeper neglecting to put down the gate while the locomotive approached. Several persons in the car were injured—one elderly lady fatally.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1.

Advices from Arizona represent the Indians to be troublesome. On the first of March the Indians attacked a train returning from Lapoee, in the vicinity of Dale Creek, killing three men, wounding one and capturing twenty-four animals, four guns, three pistols and three hundred pounds of ammunition.

Dale Creek, the scene of the massacre, was formerly a military station. The people of Arizona complain of the indolence of the military and the indifference of the government to these outrages.

"OUT IN THE COLD."

With bare, cold hands and stockingless feet,
Wandered a child in the darkened street,
Children were many who knew not and felt,
Loving parents dreaming in bed.
Cheated their joy in a land of bliss,
Without a thought or a care of this.
They were warm in humanity's fold,
But this little child was out in the cold—
Out in the cold.

Bleak blew the wind through the chearless street,
Dashing along the merciless sleet.
All furred and sheltered, man woman, and child,
Hurried along for the storm grew wild.
They could not hear the infants plaint
Winter so rude on their pathway cast.
Alas! none pitied—no one cared
The little wanderer out in the cold—
Out in the cold

She had no father—she had no mother,
Sisters dear, and never a brother
They had passed on to star worlds above.
She remained here with nothing but love.
"Nothing but love—oh! men did not know
What wealth of joy that child could bestow.
So they went by and worshipped their gold,
Leaving the little one out in the cold—
Out in the cold.

Wandered she on till the shades of night
Veiled her suppliant form from sight
Then, with her cold hands over her breast,
She prayed to her Father in Heaven for rest.
When hours had fled unsoil the world's dark frown
Hungered and chilled, she laid herself down—
Lay down to rest, while the wealthy rolled
In carriages past her out in the cold—
Out in the cold

Out in the cold, lo! an angel form
Brought her white robes, that were rich, and warm
Out in the cold on the sleeping child,
The sainted face of a mother smiled;
A sister pressed on her brow a kiss—
Led her 'mid scenes of heavenly bliss
And angels gathered into their fold
That night, the little one out of the cold—
Out of the cold

A Reminiscence

Once when I was a little boy,
I used to cry,
Because my little brother had
The biggest piece of pie

'Twas not that I had quite enough,
But then I could not see
The reason why a partial nurse
Should give him more than me.

They said I was a naughty boy
But I have oft seen men
Behave themselves as foolishly
As I behaved then.

For we are often thankless for
Rich blessings when we sigh
To think some luckier neighbor has
A "bigger piece" of pie.

An Effective Speech.

'A speech, a speech from Wilton,' cried the thoughtless fellows

'He can't make a speech on cold water I daly him,' said one of their number

'My friends,' began Wilton

'Hear, hear' he really in for it now,' cried a young man whose flushed cheeks gave pitiful signs of his devotion to the bottle

'Wilton is on his feet'

The comrade they called Wilton was a young man some twenty three years of age Upon his face, within his eyes, a settled melancholy rested; his manners were as grave as those of an old man. He was often called 'Wilton the steady,' on account of his quiet adherence to principle

The head-partner of the firm in whose employ Wilton was, gave a great party once a year, and it was to this gathering Wilton had been persuaded to come

In vain his companions tempted him with the wine that flowed freely The 'firm' considered themselves good Christians, as, indeed, did the world generally They gave largely to charities and to their church, where their seats were seldom empty They did a great deal of good with their money, yet in placing this fiery temptation before young men, some of whom were as yet without fixed principles, they committed a gross and almost fatal error Looking about him, Wilton saw already many faces flushed almost to inebriation, many eyes that, spite of their flash and sparkle, moved with difficulty, and that dire unsteadiness that marks the last point stage of drunkenness

'My friends,' he said and then paused, as if to give greater emphasis to what might follow, 'I am going to make a confession

Some of the company smiled at this, but by far the greater number were awed at the sad yet earnest tones of his voice

'Five years ago I had a brother, a bright beautiful lad, in whom the hopes of a large family circle centred He was called a generous, and he was one Sensitive, gentle-hearted and generous to a fault, he also gave promise of extraordinary vigor of mind One night, several boys in the village where I was born resolved to have a frolic The party was to be a secret one, and we were each to carry from our homes, if we could provisions and wine It came off with success. There was good cheer, there were bright and flowing liquors, we were all young and buoyant My brother had never tasted wine! Whether it was a disinclination caused by natural dislike, or whether his intuitions led him to avoid it as dangerous to him, I do not know I only know—and the recollection is at this moment burning in my brain—that we all thought if we could get Herbert drunk it would be fine fun Friends could not have set themselves more ingeniously at work to compass this object than we did I was foremost in the attempt. I will not excuse myself, nor in aught palliate my conduct. I knew he had a manuscript poem at home, that had been pronounced remarkable by competent critics, I knew he would improvise almost without mental effort, and expected that under the stimulus of the fiery serpent—whose sting I dread more than I dread death—his brain would be quickened, and we should be charmed, perhaps amazed at the exhibitions of his rare gift

At last we prevailed, but instead of quickening the wine stupefied his faculties A few glasses reduced him to a state of utter listlessness

The party broke up We were all wild with drinks and excitement, he alone was immovable and quite insensible. There was no rousing him from the state of deadly sleep into which he had fallen. I dared not take him home that night, fearing that our frolic might be found out in consequence of the trouble we should have in getting him to his room So we left him there, lying as comfortable as we could place him—his handsome face flushed and almost purple, his active brain, for once, completely stupefied

In the morning I was awakened by the sound of sobs A white, scared face stood over me a trembling, weak voice cried out, 'O Philip, your poor brother'

I sprung from my bed My friends, I knew the truth soon enough Herbert had recovered consciousness in the night, sufficient to mislead him He had fallen from the window, a height of twenty feet. He was still living In vain my prayers, and tears, and anguish.'

His voice faltered,

'Young men, he is living yet, but an incurable idiot. Now will you ask me to take the accursed stuff Yes, the curse of the living God rests upon it. It has burdened my life—it has ruined as noble an intellect as ever was ready to do battle with the faults and follies of the world Do you still jeer and laugh, because I will not be jovial? I tell you this is a living thing. I would struggle—ah, there is nothing good earth I loathe—with such a dead'y hatred'

There was a deep silence. Not one in all the company seemed inclined to drink again. —Watchman and Reflector

PILGRIMS FROM MOSCOW

is the great temple of religious worship in Moscow "The very ground you tread on is holy ground About you, you may see pious turning, time after time, towards the East, crossing themselves with an infinity of signs, kneeling before pictures of the Saviour or the Virgin, lying at times prostrate upon the cold hard stones which surround the sacred shrine And here it is not as in Catholic lands, where the way worshippers are chiefly women and children, where grown up men kneel but seldom in public, and where the prayers recited are gabbled over like a lesson learned by rote Here, as elsewhere in Moscow—and to a great, though a less extent, in St. Petersburg—the major part of the population, no matter what their sex, or age, or rank, seem to share in this open air worship, and pray aloud with a fervor whose accents are unmistakable Entering the Kremlin shrine, the sense of glamour, of which I have spoken, increases on you The building you have looked up on is the kind of edifice you see in dreams, and do not expect to meet in real life. Critics say it is a depraved style, false to every true principle of art, unsightly in construction, barbarous in ornamentation It may be so, I do not dispute the verdict of experts; I can only say that I do not envy persons who are not carried away at first by its overwhelming gorgeousness.

'From the pavement to the summit of its lofty domes, supported on its vast porphyry pillars, it is one mass of gold and color You can hardly put your hand upon a place no decorated with stones and jewels Amethysts and onyx, jasper and opals, and all the stones whose names are recorded in the adornment of Solomon's Temple seem to have been employed to make the shrine more splendid still Upon the dusky portraits of the Virgin Mother and her child, with which the walls are covered, you see hanging necklaces of diamonds, strings of jewels, each one of which must be worth a fortune It is a common saying that all the wealth of all the Russians could not suffice to buy the treasures in this the cathedral church of Moscow, and I suppose that, if purchasers could be found to buy all the articles contained there at their nominal price the amount realized by the sale would be something fabulous The very walls are wrought of silver, the roof is of solid gold The odd thing is, that all this gorgeous splendor harmonizes with itself There is nothing tawdry or gew gawish about it, all, the dim twilight in which the church is always sunk subdues the glare of its colors, and when at times, as I chanced to see it, a ray of the setting sun shines through the windows of the lofty cupola, golden beams shoot through the gloom, and are reflected back again by the furnished walls

THE MARKET

A place of almost equal interest is the great market of Moscow, situated not a stone's throw from the Kremlin, passing from which you seem to enter another world from that you have left behind you

That immense low block of one-storied buildings, faced with gaudily painted stucco, peeled and broken from the walls, is the Gostinnoi Dvor, the great mart of Moscow Entering by one of the gateways, you see before you a very labyrinth of dark passages, and hear a confused jargon of many voices On to the dark corridors, crammed with a dense crowd pacing constantly up and down, open the shops of the merchants A picture of the Savior hangs wherever the corridors intersect, and the glare of the lamps suspended before it only serves to make the general gloom more visible Each corridor is more or less strictly reserved to one class of traders, but there is not much outward display on their open counters, and the interior of the vault-like shops are so dark that it is difficult to see what sort of goods are piled up on the long layers of shelves But, as you pass along, the merchants call to you from their door ways, and offer you wares of every form and class and fashion I suppose there are not many articles in the world you might not obtain at this enormous depot, and the traders are ready to do business with you for a kopeck or a million roubles, just as you choose In one row there are fine furs enough to clothe all St Petersburg; in another there are as many shoes and boots as would be found in Northampton and Stafford There are yarns and cottons and Manchester goods, and Sheffield cutlery, and French silks, and German leather and every article, in fact, which can possibly be smuggled across the frontiers Then there are the Persian stalls, where Armenians in high dark fur caps sell Astrakhan wool and Persian silks and arms studded with stones On other counters there are displayed all sorts of Circassian silver ornaments, cigarette cases, matchboxes filigree caskets, crosses and amulets and, if you ask for anything better, and look like a possible purchaser, he shopman will take, from some queer hiding place concealed beneath his clothes little dirty papers, which, on opening them, are found to contain turquoises and pearls and diamonds There also are the money-changers, seated behind desks covered with immense piles of silver roubles and copper kopecks You would think that in this community of traders, who do business with all parts of the world, you would find no difficulty in making yourself understood in some one of the Western tongues, with which most travelers are acquainted But the impression would prove, on putting it to the test of experience, to be a rash delusion. You are here in Russia proper, and nobody knows any language but the native tongue With the aid of fingers, and chalking numerals upon the counter, you can with difficulty arrive at the price asked for any article and then, if you need it, you offer a third of the price demanded, as a mere matter of course Supposing you are a real Russian, you walk away at the first refusal, pretending no to look behind you, the merchant watches you all the time, trying to look as if he never noticed you, and then you return and walk off again, till at last the game of bargain and seek is played out, and you and the vendor have come to some satisfactory compromise' [McMillan's Magazine

Nasby Explains his Position to Congress

This gentleman finding his chance for confirmation look so small, was prevailed upon by the President, as a jeasay, to write the following letter explaining his position We give it as a good bit.

Hon ———, House us Reps

My dear Sir—My confirmasheen by the Senate uv the Yoonited States to the position uv Postmaster at the Confederate X Roads, which is in the State uv Kentucky, been somewhat jepardized by my operasheen in the politikle field duorin the past two years, I hev the honor to explane that, notwithstandin the fact that it was a original Democrat, early in the war I took up arms for the preservation uv our beloved Yoonion. The precise date I cannot give, owin to the demoralized condishun uv my mind at the time, but that you kin assertane for yourselves. It was about two weeks after the first draft. That I laid down arms again as soon as the regiment struck Suthern soil, will not, when the motives which actuated me are known, be allowed to weigh agin me. It has bin sez I deserted to the enemy—so it was sed of John Chainpe, but history subsequently vindicated him; he went to Kanada. I will not stop to reply to my defamers, but if it comes out finally that I went for the purpose uv satisfyin rebels by eksular demonstrashun that they had nothing to hope for from the Northern Democrats, uv whom I was a average specimen, what kin my angel say then!

Do not deny that I was a ardent supporter uv President Johnson from the beginning uv his career. I was filled with admiration at his manly firmness, and when I received too bad up to the very day I received my expointment I felt so bitterly. mean. I accompanied him on his—I will not say degradation, for he is my superior officer—grand journey, per Northern States, and night by night I listened to his powerful appeals. IRRITATION OF THE NECK OF THE BLADDER, INFLAMMATION OF THE KIDNEYS CATARRH OF THE BLADDER.

STRANGURY AND BURNING OR PAINFUL URINATING.

For these diseases it is truly a sovereign remedy and too much cannot be said in its praise. A single dose has been known to relieve the most urgent symptoms.

Are you troubled with that distressing pain in the small of the back and through the hips A teaspoonful a day of the Constitution Water will relieve you like a charm

PHYSICIANS

Have long since given up the use of buchu, cubebs and uniform treatment of these diseases and only use them for the want of a better remedy

CONSTITUTION WATER

Has proved itself equal to the task that has devolved upon it.

DIURETICS

Irritate and drench the kidneys, and by constant use soon lead to chronic degeneration and confirmed disease

We present the Constitution Water to the public with the conviction that it has no equal in relieving the class of diseases for which it has been found so eminently successful in curing and we trust that we shall be rewarded for our efforts in placing so valuable a remedy in a form to meet the requirements of patient and physician

DR GREGG

Dear Sir—I wish to inform you that I have been under the treatment of some of our best physician for nearly two years, without receiving any benefit. I had lost all confidence, and I indulged in but little hope of a cure from any source My disease was Dropsy, and my physicians told me that there was no cure for me. I was tapped some fifty times, and at the different operations about 1200 pounds of water was removed.

I am happy to inform you that I have been completely restored to health by the use of Constitution Water.

I make this statement hoping it may reach those persons who may be similarly afflicted.

Respectfully,
MRS MARGILL C LEVANWAY.

IN DYSMENORRHŒA, OR PAINFUL MENSTRUATION, AND MENORRHAGIA, OR PROFUSE FLOWING

Both diseases arising from a faulty secretion of the menstrual fluid—in one case being too little and accompanied by severe pain, and the other a too profuse secretion, which will be speedily cured by the Constitution Water.

That diseases known as FALLING OF THE WOMB, which is the result of a relaxation of the ligaments of that organ, and is known by a sense of dearness and dragging pains in the back and sides and at times accompanied by sharp, lancinating or shooting pains through the parts, will, in all cases be removed by the medicine.

There is another class of symptoms arising from IRRITATION OF THE WOMB, which physicians call Nervousness, which word covers up much ignorance, and in nine cases out of ten the doctor does not really know whether the symptoms are the disease, or the disease the symptoms We can only enumerate them here I speak more particularly of Cold Feet, Palpitation of the Heart, Impaired Memory, Wakefulness, Flashes of Heat Languor, Lassitude and Dimness of Vision

READ! READ!! READ!!

DANVILLE, Pa., June, 1862.—Dr Wm. H. Gregg—Dear Sir—In February 1861, I was afflicted with sugar diabetes, and for five months I passed more than two gallons of water in twenty four hours I was obliged to get up as often as ten or twelve times during the night, and in five months I lost about fifty pounds in weight During the month of July, 1861, I procured two bottles of Constitution Water and in two days after using it I experienced relief, and after taking two bottles I was entirely cured soon after regaining my usual good health!

Yours truly, J. V. L. DE WITT.

BOSTON CORNERS, N Y, Dec 27 1861—Wm. H Gregg & Co—Gents—I freely give you liberty to make use of the following certificate of the value of the Constitution Water, which I can recommend in the highest manner—My wife was attacked with pain in the shoulders, whole length of the back and in her limbs, with palpitation of the heart and irritation of the bladder I called a physician, who attended her about three months, when he left her worse than he found her. I then employed one of the best physicians I could find, who attended her for about nine months, and while she was under his care she did not suffer quite as much pain, He finally gave her up, and said "her case was incurable For," said he, "she has such a combination of complaints that medicine gives for one operates against some other of her difficulties" About this time she commenced to use the Constitution Water and to our utter astonishment, almost the first dose seemed to have the desired effect, and she kept on improving rapidly under its treatment, and now superintends entirely her domestic affairs. She has not taken any of the Constitution Water for about four weeks, and we are happy to say that it has produced a permanent cure.

WM. M. VAN HEUSCHOTEN.

WETHERSFIELD, CONN., March 2, 1863—Dr. W H Gregg—Dear Sir,—Having seen your advertisement of "Constitution Water," recommended for Inflammation of the Kidneys and Irritation of the Bladder, having suffered for the past three years and tried the skill of a number of physicians with only temporary relief, I was induced to try your medicine. I procured one bottle of your agents at Hartford, Messrs Lee, Sisson & Co., and when I had used half of it, to my surprise, I found a great change in my health. I have used two bottles of it and am where I never expected to be in my life, well, and in good spirits. I cannot express my gratitude for it; I feel that it is all and more than you recommended it to be. May the blessing of God rest upon you in your labors of love.

Yours truly, LEONARD S. BIGLOW
